TTEC ADDI

Speak every customer's language – instantly

Too often, brands struggle to find support in the languages they need, so they choose customer experience (CX) locations based on language offerings – even if those locations aren't the best fit for their needs.

TTEC ADDI is a real-time, AI-powered translator that reduces confusion and frustration by instantly interpreting conversations between customers and contact center associates. It results in increased efficiency, less customer frustration, improved associate experience, and reduced handle times.

With TTEC ADDI, brands can focus on hiring associates with the skillsets and traits that will drive success, rather than having to hire mainly based on language.

How it works: Breaking down communication barriers

TTEC ADDI enables bi-directional and natural translation that happens nearly instantly. Each party speaks and hears in their native language, and translation takes less than one second.
